

Teacher Considerations

Camps at Hosanna are run in conjunction with you and your staff. Hosanna staff takes the responsibility for leading the arranged activities. Outside of these times your staff has the responsibility for managing student activity, behavior and conduct. You will love being at Hosanna and find that roles for your staff are simple but important to the overall camp experience. Most of these roles are things that any teacher would instinctively do, however we have found it important to state them.

Meal & Snack times

All meals will be facilitated by our chef and Hosanna staff. The roles you and your staff are required to manage are;

- serving food;
- Everyone get's their fair share. Fair distribution of treats and food.
- establishing a clean-up roster drawn from the student group;
- monitor students dining room conduct;
- monitoring that students dispose of food waste correctly and recycle in accordance with the waste management system at Hosanna; and,
- ensuring that the allocated students wash up and return all washed items and providing assistance to the wash group when necessary.

Activity times

Hosanna staff will facilitate all activities unless previously stated in the camp schedule. Although teacher involvement is not necessary it is recommended. Most of our activities have steep learning curves, and early teacher supervision ensures that student confidence remains high. The activities are great fun for teachers too...just be sure you don't get too excited and smother student involvement.

Outside of program areas

Please be alert to poor treatment of property, furniture, equipment or our staff. To do this we recommend that your staff regularly walk around living areas in evenings and free time periods, attend meals a little earlier than students and know what and where the next activity is so that they can be there on time with all students prepared for the activity.

Safety

Incidental cuts, bruises, headaches and general complaints are the responsibility of your staff. Hosanna staff are happy to assist where required, however primary role is running the activities and food preparation when catering. In the case of a serious accident, Hosanna will work together with school leadership to make the appropriate decisions. When providing first aid the highest ranking first aid person has the decision making authority. If there is a need to take a student to a doctor or hospital, it is the schools responsibility to have a car for this transport and to facilitate the transportation. However, Hosanna will assist where required. All guests are informed on the location of first aid supplies during the welcoming brief.

Clean up & Departure

On departure your staff are responsible for checking that living spaces are in the same condition as upon arrival. This can be achieved by creating a staff presence during cleaning times by walking between living spaces and offering assistance, feedback and direction. Ask Hosanna for any equipment you may need or any information you may require. Lost property is the responsibility of your staff and students. However, Hosanna will notify you of all lost property found after your camp. It is the schools responsibility to organize its return.
